TRAVEL TIPS

Air fares continue to become more confusing! You probably have noticed ads which proclaim low, low rates without providing information about the restrictions, in type size that you can read.

The best rule of thumb is to remember that if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is. That doesn't mean we don't have some fantastic airfares; but that there are usually some restrictions such as advance purchase requirements, minimum stay restrictions and/or cancellation penalties.

If you've traveled at all or read travel articles and ads, you've probably noticed the vast difference between on-season and off-season rates, especially to Europe. Complete off-season packages are available for the cost of on-season air fares alone, and they're bargains. Again, however, you must read the fine print to determine the dates of validity.

Airlines frequently advertise low fares which are actually half of round trip rates, but fail to make this clear. We're then placed in the position of trying to make clients understand why they can't fly for $59 as the ad would have them believe. We would rather have you know about all the restrictions and must strongly recommend that you read the fine print in any "too good to be true" ads.

We don't advertise deceptive rates or use bait-and-switch tactics. We'd prefer that others didn't either but that's beyond our control; we can suggest, however, that you let us quote the best rates all year long.

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

Man arrested for sexual assault

Thirty-four-year-old Jeffery Kavos of Romulus was arrested Friday after allegedly sexually assaulting a 67-year-old Romulus resident in her home Oct. 8.

At about 10 a.m. that morning, an assailant reportedly knocked on her door, representing himself as a friend of the woman's son, police said.

The assailant called the victim by name and inquired as to her son's whereabouts, they said. He then then asked if he could use her lavatory before he left.

According to police, the woman then admitted her attacker to her home.

With information gathered from the victim and witnesses, police identified the suspect and arrested him Oct. 11. He is charged with two counts of criminal sexual conduct.

Kavox was arraigned Oct. 13 in out-county court and remanded to Wayne County Jail without bond. He will remain in custody until his preliminary examination set for Oct. 23.

Volunteers are being sought to provide help at Romulus recycling days.

The second event is a trip to Skateland West.

Parental pick-up from this event is also required and deadline to sign up is 5 p.m. Nov. 15.

Trips are only open to the first 60 children registered.

Person of the year sought

The 12th annual Romulus "Person of the Year" is being sought by the Romulus Chamber of Commerce.

The only criteria for the nominee is that they have made a significant contribution to the community.

The individual will be honored at an awards banquet on March 20, 1992 at the Radisson Hotel.

Nomination forms may be picked up at the chamber office located at 31200 Industrial Expressway by the Holiday Inn in Romulus. The deadline is Dec. 1, 1991.

Friends and relatives of men and women who served their country now have a chance to enter their loved ones into the annals of Romulus History.

Bricks inscribed with the names of those veterans may now be purchased to adorn the Romulus Veterans Memorial scheduled for unveiling on July 4, 1992.

A $50 or $100 brick may be purchased with donations going toward the completion of the memorial.

Business aids in emergency training

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

Without the donation of the Buffalo Tank Corporation of Romulus, emergency response teams might not be as well equipped to handle a hazardous materials situations.

Manufacturers of storage tanks designed to hold gasoline, petroleum products and chemicals, Buffalo Tank donated one of their commonly used products to the new Hazardous Materials Training Center for the State of Michigan.

Thanks to their contribution, emergency response teams, fire fighters and industry personnel will get a chance to learn the characteristics of the product hands-on to ensure proper response if a hazardous materials incident should arise.

"Having the tank available will allow advanced responders an opportunity to see how tanks are put together so that they know what to do to stop any leaks that may occur," said Lt. Edward Buikema, training officer of the Emergency Management Division of the State Police Department.

In the tank manufacturing business for more than 30 years, Buffalo Tank, home-based in Baltimore, Md., has a total of seven locations, including Romulus. They service several major oil and automobile companies throughout the United States and are proud to report that a problem with their tanks has never been reported, according to Robert Holland, manager of marketing in Baltimore. Still, they were happy to make the contribution, he said.

"It will give experts a chance to see how our product is put together so they'll know what to look for if they do ever have to perform an inspection," he said.

Although their contribution was significant, the Buffalo Tank Corp. was just one of the many companies throughout Michigan that made donations to the new training facility.

Designed to teach emergency responders proper response to all kinds of hazardous materials incidents, the center is built on state-owned land next to the State Police Training Academy in Lansing and managed by Michigan State Police.

According to Andrew Such, executive director of the Michigan Chemical Council, the facility is the first one in the United States to be built with donations from private industry and then operated by the state government.

all communities, according to officials.

Is it economic development or urban sprawl? That is the question.

"They call it an urban sprawl issue, but we in Romulus call it economic development," said Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally, who also serves as CWW chairperson. "I know that as Detroit goes, so go all of us, but the (SEMCOG plan) provision that says we can't develop until the city is revitalized is unfair."

She explained that if officials were to count Romulus in as a urban community, the effects wouldn't be so negative, but it were counted as an area within the urban sprawl, "...it's bad news for us," she said. "It could mean we may never get state or federal assistance to take care of any of our needs. It would threaten home-rule to us and to several other communities and home-rule is precious to all of us."

So, the definition for the recent wave of economic growth in western Wayne County seems to depend on whether a community is part of it or apart from it.

SEMCOG officials cited urban sprawl as the reason for the new approach to development in the seven-county area. The council opposes the construction of new infrastructure for development, while developers bypass older communities where roads, sewers and utilities already are in place.

A majority of those attending the Oct. 11 Conference of Western Wayne meeting seemed to favor the term "economic development" and turn thumbs down to a Michigan Council of Governments recommendation that would prepare a master plan for development for the seven counties.

"There are a lot of concerns about the implications of centralized planning," said CWW Executive Director Daniel Gil-martin. "An informational forum, hosted by SEMCOG, is planned at 7 p.m. Oct. 17 in Wayne. At this meeting, CWW elected officials and municipal staff members will have an opportunity to comment on the study and its conclusions and recommendations."

Although no formal action was taken on Friday to oppose the SEMCOG Regional Development Initiative, many CWW members expressed their concern about the plan. They also opposed a proposed part of the RDI plan which would pool property taxes from the SEMCOG area and give SEMCOG the authority to distribute them.

McAnally said this municipal tax sharing proposal would appealing to her community.

"All of us who experience growth would have to share with other communities, but what about the bedroom communities - what do they have to share?"

"It is very easy for old communities to look at the immediate benefits, but we need to look at this a long way down the road, not just the first step. It would make a pretty fundamental change in government and the way people have or do not have a role in the decision making," Yack said.

Tigers

feeling is that it would hinder the lifestyle of people in our city and cause problems within our community that's already hindered by industry.

"I say we look at the matter very cautiously and carry a big stick," he said.

He believes a lot of planning and insurances would have to be made on the part of the stadium officials before residents of Romulus would concur to having Tiger Stadium within the city. He would also like to know how city services would be supported.

"We'd have additional water and sewer demands, additional police demands and a need for additional other city services," he said. "I'd want to know how those services would be provided and whether or not there would be revenue for our city before I would agree to have it here."

Bergeron believes the stadium should stay in Detroit.

"They're a struggling community as it is and without Tiger Stadium they'll really have a hard time," he said.

Councilman William Wadsworth agrees with Bergeron.

"Personally, I think there's enough planes, trains and automobiles in Romulus and I'm not in favor of any type of taxpayer contribution. "Still, it would be up to the vote of the people and if they agreed, I'd look further into it but for now, I would just as soon see Tiger Stadium stay in Detroit," he said.

"I really don't think it will ever come to Romulus, though."

Proper response to toxic spills taught

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

Although it may not be something we often think about, hazardous materials are a part of our everyday lives and could pose a threat at any time.

From household detergents and air fresheners to industrial chemicals and toxic waste, dangerous agents are always there posing a threat which could be deadly if individuals aren't careful and aware.

Affecting urban, suburban and rural areas, hazardous materials incidents can range from a chemical spill on a highway to ground water contamination by naturally occurring methane gas. This may be especially true in the Romulus area, with its abundance of highways and the presence of the airport.

According to officials at the city emergency management department, knowledge of chemical hazards, employee safety training, proper use and storage of hazardous materials and proper emergency response actions will help minimize unnecessary incidents and exposure. They believe that the more individuals know about potential chemical hazards in your area, the better equipped you can be to make wise decisions about how hazardous materials and possible incidents will be managed.

Working diligently to address all issues regarding hazardous materials, city workers have identified facilities with extremely dangerous chemicals in their presence, and have worked with these facilities to train their employees on what to do if there are any problems.

In addition, the police and fire departments have been involved in training in order to know how to respond to these types of incidents. They have done exercises with all emergency responding agencies in the city, county and state, and have identified hazardous transportation routes and people who would be affected by the incident.

They put together the following lists of emergency actions that Romulus families may want to consider:

If told to protect breathing, take the following steps:
-Cover your nose and mouth with a damp handkerchief or other cloth.

-Close the windows and doors if you are in a building or cars.

-Turn off heating, cooling or ventilation systems, such as windows or room fans.

If you are told to take shelter in place:

-Go inside if you are outside. When inside, stay there until local officials say you can leave safely.

-Close all doors and windows.

-To minimize exposure, turn off heating, cooling and ventilation systems such as windows or room fans.

-Put out any fires and close dampers.

-Do not use your fireplace.

-Listen to local radio or TV stations for emergency instructions and information.

The Emergency Management Department also provided this list of actions to avoid during community emergencies:

1. Do not listen to rumors.

2. Do not use the phone. Lines will be needed for official emergency business.

3. Do not go to the school to pick up your children unless specifically instructed. They will be safe with school officials who are prepared to take care of them. Should you try to go to their school, it may only cause traffic problems and hamper the actions school officials need to take.

If you have any further questions regarding hazardous materials or actions which should be taken in case of an emergency, call the Romulus Emergency Management Office or the Fire Department at 941-8585.

Police continue to patrol protest

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Romulus police were again among approximately 100 officers and 200 demonstrators who squared off at 11 a.m. Sunday in front of the newly opened Cracker Barrel Restaurant on the Interstate-94 service drive, and disbursed without major incidents two hours later.

For the third time since the Sept. 30 opening of the Cracker Barrel Restaurant, gay rights activists and allied groups demonstrated against the alleged anti-homosexual hiring practices of the newest restaurant in the 106-store chain.

Although no one will speculate how long the demonstrations will continue, Van Buren Township Supervisor David Jacques said, "If they're here, we'll be here." And as long as they're needed, so will the Romulus Police.

"We'll just continue to do our job and hope that a peaceful resolution can occur," said Romulus Lt. Eric Painter.

Until that occurs, Van Buren Township police officers and their allies will continue to fulfill their obligation to provide protection to all parties involved in the dispute, the township supervisor said.

tinuing stint operation to rid the city of prostitutes and drugs."

The target of the sting operation Thursday night were the johns, police said. They said that all 11 suspects were residents of neighboring communities.

"None of the 11 were from Inkster," Colwell said. "It is an ongoing problem - persons from other communities coming to Inkster to commit crimes," Colwell said. "And we are going to put a stop to it."

"We have also confiscated the suspects' vehicles," he added.

The men were arrested after they approached undercover Inkster police women and asked them to perform sex acts. Fees offered for the sex acts were between $20 to $30, according to police reports.

Along with the three Westland and four Romulus men, the suspects gave addresses in Livonia, Trenton and Taylor.

"This undercover sting operation will continue until these people realize that if they come to this city to violate the law, they will be arrested."

Last month, 27 prostitutes and their johns were arrested by Inkster police in a similar sting operation.

Councilman Anderson C. Young, a former Inkster police chief, applauded the department's efforts "to clean up the city."

"As the police records show, these are not local people but residents of the neighboring communities who are coming in here and looking for illegal activities."

Students offered trips

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

In an effort to expand their horizons, the Romulus Recreation Department is offering more activities than ever before to Romulus students.

"We want to show them that recreation covers more facets than just sports," said Duane Martin, director of the Romulus Recreation Department.

The first of the new events offered to the students was a trip to Apple Charlie's Cider Mill. For a small fee, students had a chance to enjoy a tour of the orchards, a petting farm, cider and donuts.

A movie appropriate for elementary age children is also being offered. On Nov. 8, the children will be transported to the theatre to take in the show, then back to the Recreation Department. Cost for this event is $2.50 per student.

And for those more inclined be on the move, a trip to Skateland West will be offered on Nov. 20. A $4.50 cost will include transportation to and from the rink, admission and skate rental.

All trips will be open to children ages 3 through 7.

"If we get good response, we'll continue these trips and maybe more in the future," Martin said.

For further information contact the Recreation Department at 942-6852.

State of the State: Helping Hands in Michigan Program earlier this year, we knew this was the type of project he was talking about, where private industry and government work together on solutions," Such commented. "We are pleased that these contributors were in the forefront of such an effort."

Although State Police, with the assistance of Dow Chemical Co. and later Michigan Chemical Council, have sponsored training programs for hazardous materials response in recent years, the lack of a permanent site made it difficult and costly to train sufficient numbers of personnel.

Now, thanks to initial fund-raising efforts of Dow, the largest chemical company in the state, and subsequent donations of more than $350,000 from private industry throughout the state, that problem should be solved.

Maintained through user fees, the site is available for training year round. Further information is available from local fire officials or Lt. Curt Vandenberg of the State Police Training Division at (517)322-1200.

Michigan credit unions are successful and strong

Despite turmoil in almost every aspect of the financial world, Michigan credit unions have met the economic challenges of the last decade and continued their quiet success and stability.

"It's the old tale of the tortoise and the hare," said Kenyan E. Bixby, president and chief executive officer of the Michigan Credit Union League. "While many people's attention was elsewhere, Michigan credit unions have been one of the success stories of our era."

Membership in Michigan credit unions reached an historic high of more than 3.6 million people, indicating that more than one out of every three people in Michigan is a credit union member. Credit union assets continued their pattern of steady growth, passing the $11 billion mark last year compared with $4 billion and the end of 1980.

"The hallmark of this growth is that it is accompanied by security," Bixby said, "as credit unions grew, so did their capital." The capital-to-asset ratio for Michigan credit unions at the end of 1990 was a solid 8.7 percent. "That is without risk-weighting the ratio," added Bixby. "If credit unions loan and investment portfolios were risk-weighted, that ratio would be even higher," he said.

Credit unions have traditionally maintained very conservative loan portfolios. Year-end figures show that only one half of one percent of Michigan credit union loans were in the commercial category. Home mortgages accounted for 23.3 percent, auto loans 36.2 percent and other consumer lands 40.1 percent.

According to Bixby, "This sort of lending is a direct result of the unique nature of credit unions as not-for-profit financial cooperatives that exist to serve their members instead of to make profits. Our members don't need their credit unions to invest in leveraged buy-outs, corporate takeovers, third-world debts or junk bonds. They need homes, cars and personal loans so that's what credit unions do."

That unique nature is reflected in the fact that Michigan credit unions have more active volunteers (7,965) than either full-time or part-time employees (6,668 and 1,779 respectively). A hefty majority of Michigan credit unions (almost 50 percent) have membership based on occupation. Of the remainder, nearly 24 percent are based on associations such as churches or associations while the remaining 18 percent are based on communities or multiple groups.

Kenyan E. Bixby, president and chief executive officer of Michigan Credit Union League.

Make consumer complaints count

If you're not happy with a product or service, do you complain? Most consumers don't, and that is a mistake, according to Everybody's Money, the consumer magazine for credit union members published by the Credit Union National Association (CUNA).

Some companies do pay off, the magazine says, "all it takes is perseverance and a little know-how."

Some companies offer toll-free numbers for customer assistance. Using a customer assistance service can be quick, easy and effective way to resolve minor problems.

When dealing with less sophisticated companies or a more complex problem, however, you may need other methods to get action. Here are the steps to take: • Go back to the place of purchase. "Calmly and politely identify the problem and how you would like it handled. If the person you speak to doesn't have the power to help, ask for the supervisor or manager. "A friendly and positive approach is the key."

• Bring along any evidence that might be helpful in presenting your complaint, such as the product itself or a photo. Also have your sales receipt, canceled check, repair or service order, warranty and other pertinent documents.

• The majority of complaints are settled at the store level. If the merchant doesn't address the problem, go to the next step.

• Contact the company directly. Move up the ladder. Get in touch with the national headquarters of the retail outlet or the manufacturer of the product.

• Write the company president. Describe the problem you're having with the product and what steps you've taken to date to have it remedied. Explain what solution you're seeking, whether repair, replacement or refund. Include all pertinent information and photocopies of documents. Ask for a response within two or three weeks.

If you don't receive a response within the requested time, send another copy of your letter with a short cover note. Explain that if your complaint doesn't receive prompt attention, you'll pursue the matter with a third party.

As an alternative, you may want to telephone the company directly. Ask the company switchboard operator for the name of the person who can help you, and the name of that person's boss. Keep moving up the chain of command until you get somebody who's willing to act.

• If these steps fail, enlist the aid of third parties. Start with the trade association of the industry to which the firm belongs. If the association can't help you, turn to your local Better Business Bureau or your state consumer protection agency.

• As a last resort, consider small claims court. If your loss is greater than the limit for small claims court, you may want to hire an attorney. Of course, you should weigh the cost of court action against the benefits.

Most companies want satisfied customers, and the chances are your complaint will get a response. Companies know that a customer whose complaint is handled effectively often becomes a more loyal customer.

Save money with short-term auto loans

In buying a car, a small down payment or nothing down at all along with low monthly car payments are appealing. But they require stretching out the car loan, which can cost you hundreds of dollars in extra interest over the life of the loan, according to Everybody's Money, the consumer magazine for credit union members published by the Credit Union National Association.

Many car buyers finance vehicles for five to seven years. Not only does this mean extra interest, the buyer may still owe money on the old vehicle when he or she wants to trade it in for a new one. In fact, the buyer may owe more on the old car than it's worth as a trade-in, and end up having to refinance part of the old loan.

On your next car purchase, consider waiting a few months and saving a larger down payment, the magazine advises. Make savings easier by having your employer directly deposit all or part of your paycheck into your savings or share draft (checking) account.

With the larger down payment, you can still have an affordable monthly payment, but you'll save money. The chart illustrates how making a $2,000 down payment can save more than a thousand dollars.

Credit unions offer full range of services to membership

Since the first credit unions opened in the early 1900s in the United States, they have concentrated on being the best possible places to save and borrow for the average consumer. The emphasis has always been on member thrift, instead of institutional profit, so they can offer low-interest loans and a high rate of return on savings.

In recent years, credit unions have begun moving beyond the traditional saving and lending services. Some now offer the most modern financial services available anywhere, such as IRAs, certificates of deposit, money orders, credit and debit cards, automated teller machines, home mortgage loans and financial planning programs.

Not every credit union offers every type of service. This depends on the needs of the membership and the credit union's physical capacity to administer various programs. Because credit unions are cooperatively owned and democratically controlled, members participate directly in choosing the programs that will best suit their needs. The following services are typical of those offered by most credit unions:

- Loans Everyone needs a loan at one time or another, and credit unions have traditionally been recognized as a good place to get one. Interest rates are typically as low or lower than those of other lenders, and it's often easier to get a loan at a credit union because consideration is given to the borrower's character and ability to repay, instead of just the collateral available. Many credit unions also provide Loan Protection insurance at no additional cost. This insurance pays off a member's outstanding loan balance should he or she die or become permanently disabled.
- Savings Credit unions help members save to achieve their financial goals. Most offer savings plans that may include passbook accounts, money market accounts, certificates of deposit, individual retirement accounts (IRAs), Christmas, vacation and educational accounts, etc. Interest rates are always competitive and often exceed those of other financial institutions. Savings are safe because deposits in nearly all credit unions are insured up to $100,000 by an agency of the state or federal government.

- Payroll deduction Nine out of 10 credit unions offer this handy service which enables members to have regular savings deposits or loan payments deducted directly from their paychecks. It's a painless, convenient way to save.
- Share draft accounts These are interest-paying checking accounts similar to the NOW accounts offered by other institutions. However, a share draft account usually has a lower service fee (if any) or a lower minimum required balance than a NOW account.

- Direct deposit This enables members to have their paychecks, social security checks or other types of regular payments deposited directly into their credit union account. It's a great convenience that means no more lost checks, no more standing in line, no forgotten deposits...and the money starts earning interest immediately.
- Education and counseling Credit unions exist to help provide for the financial well-being of their members, so many offer financial planning to achieve specific goals. These goals may include retirement planning or saving for children's education.

• Other services Many credit unions offer additional services such as home mortgage loans, credit and debit cards, safe deposit boxes, automated teller machines and personal insurance services. It all depends on the size of the credit union and the wants and needs of its members.

Credit unions believe the average consumer deserves as good a shake as the person with lots of money. They know that consumers today need more than just loans and a place to save, so they're working hard to serve those needs in the best way possible, a spokesman said.

Common questions about credit unions

Questions and answers about Michigan Credit Union.

- Isn't a credit union the same as a bank? No. A bank is a commercial business established in order to make money from customers to produce profits for stockholders. A credit union is a not-for-profit cooperative established to meet the financial needs of members. All members have one vote each in the cooperative, regardless of how much or little money they have in their accounts. Credit unions are often able to provide financial services in a very cost effective manner.
- Do credit unions pay taxes? Yes. Credit unions pay a variety of local taxes, service fees and other costs. In addition, credit union members pay personal taxes on the dividend (interest) they receive. In that credit unions do not make profits, they do not have any profits on which to pay taxes.
- Are Michigan credit unions federally insured? Yes. Every single Michigan credit union, whether state chartered or federally chartered, is insured by the federal government through the National Credit Union Administration (NCUA).

- Are Michigan credit unions safe? Yes. Michigan credit unions are among the most secure financial institutions in the nation. Only one half of 1 percent of credit unions are for commercial purposes. The other 99.5 percent are in home mortgages, car loans and small consumer loans.
- Can anyone join a credit union? No. One must be part of a common bond that makes up the field of membership served by a credit union. However, most people may qualify for credit union membership through their work, church, association or community. More than 3.6 million people in Michigan belong to credit unions, which means more than one out of every three citizens are members. The largest Michigan credit union has more than 100,000 members while the smallest has fewer than 100.
- What are some of the advantages of using a credit union?

Credit unions exist to serve their members and surveys have repeatedly shown credit union members to be more satisfied with the service they receive than are bank and S & L customers. Members have the power to direct credit union policy and even replace the board of directors if they choose. As a result of seeking to serve their consumer members instead of profiting from them, credit unions usually charge lower rates for loans, credit cards, checking (share draft) and other services and often offer higher interest on savings.

- How is a credit union governed? Members elect a volunteer board of directors, which sets the policies of the credit union. In small credit unions, the elected treasurer often acts as manager while volunteers carry out the various functions of the organization. Larger credit unions hire professional staff to run day-to-day operations for the institution. The credit union stages an annual membership meeting each year and each adult member, regardless of how much money her or she may have in the credit union, has one vote.

10 steps to better finance

- Control your finances; don't let them control you.
- Sit down and set short and long-term goals for yourself and your family.
- Involve your spouse and children in your planning to gain their cooperation and support.
- Analyze your saving and spending habits and shape them to advance your goals.
- Pay yourself first. Save at least a small part of each paycheck and add to your nest egg by saving a share of each income tax refund, bonus or raise.
- Reduce interest expense by switching to a no- or low-fee credit card and paying the full balance owed each month.
- Avoid future expense by paying off credit card and other short-term, high-interest debt.
- Shop around for a financial institution, such as a credit union, that offers lower fees and higher returns on savings.

- Compare prices and quality when you buy.
- Ask your credit union how you can get free financial counseling, if you're swamped with debt.

CREDIT UNIONS:

WHAT MAKES THEM DIFFERENT CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE IN YOUR LIFE

While all financial institutions offer essentially the same services, it's important to recognize that they are not all alike.

Banks and savings & loans are accountable to stockholders, whose primary concern is the amount of profit produced by their investment.

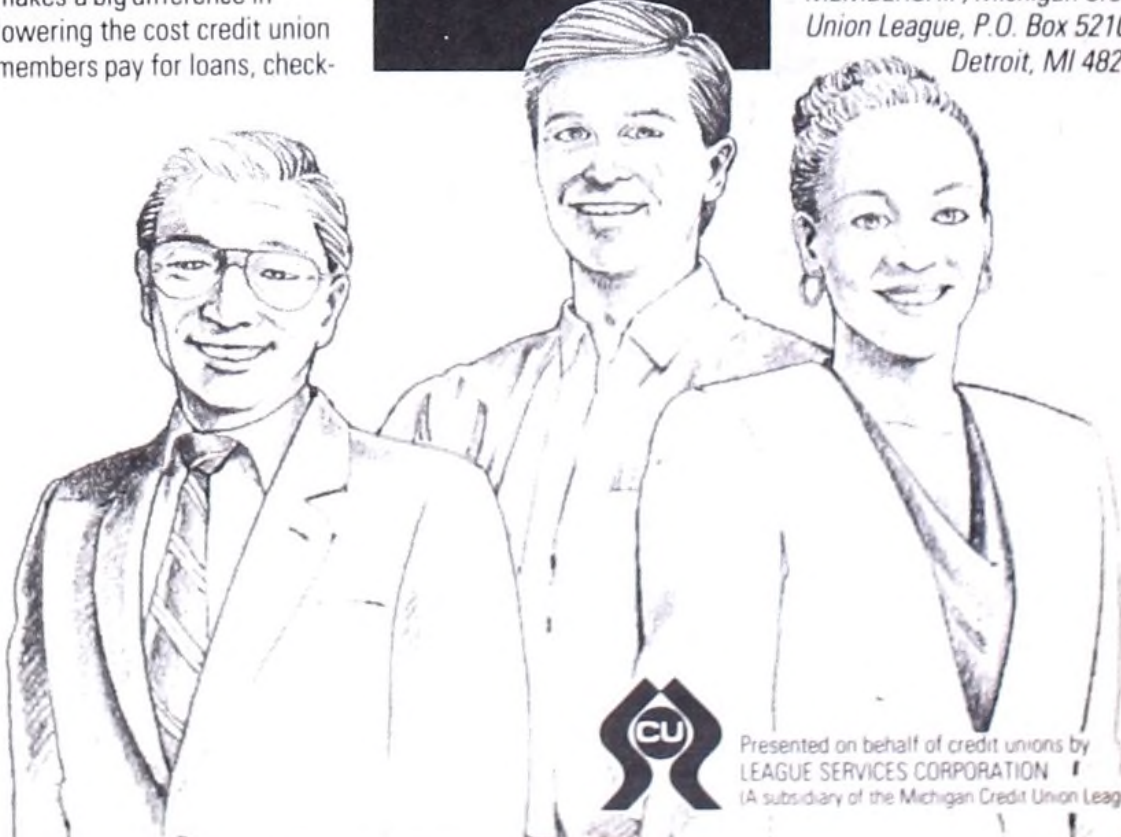

Among all financial institutions, only credit unions operate as true member-owned, not-for-profit cooperatives.

It's a unique arrangement that makes a big difference in lowering the cost credit union members pay for loans, checking, credit cards, the use of automated teller machines and many other financial services. And a big difference in the way they are treated.

Discover the difference in financial institutions. Join the growing number of people who are enjoying the many benefits of credit union membership.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON—A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Researchers in Europe found that an ingredient in the aptly named produce Food Source One actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in intestinal absorption of calories.

While the development of Food Source One, a project of National Dietary Research, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the discovery has been a windfall for overweight people. A Daytona Beach, Florida woman fighting a weight battle for 12 years used the product on the recommendation of her physician and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "Not only have I lost 30 pounds, but my cholesterol has dropped from 232 to 143. I have two closets full of clothes which have not fit me in two years that I can now wear." In a separate report, a telephone interview revealed that a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist lost 14 pounds in 15 days on the product and was never hungry. Food Source One is available through physicians and pharmacies without a perscription because it is not a drug and contains only natural ingredients already known to be safe. Copies of the referenced style are available free from National Dietary Research, Suite 553, 1377 K St., Washington, DC 20005, however, please include $2 Postage & Handling for each request.

More Detroit suburban travelers

The SPRING Newspapers' circulation more than doubles the daily suburban circulation of either The Detroit News or Free Press.

In fact, SPRING's suburban circulation is greater than the two metro dailies' combined.

And that's not all.

According to the 1991 Belden study, SPRING reaches more of the affluent suburban shoppers who have more—and spend more.

► 146,100 more suburban vacationers than the daily News (55,400 more than the Free Press).

► 91,800 more suburban purchasers of airline tickets than The News (9,700 more than the Free Press).

► 80,700 (and 7,900) more suburban business travelers.

More suburban boat owners, travel agent customers. . .

Simply put, one order in SPRING delivers more.

Shouldn't you be advertising in SPRING more?

To get all the facts, call your SPRING representative.

Opinion

The jury's still out

Last week, Romulus Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell threatened legal action against the new tax-base sharing legislation signed by Gov. John Engler.

According to Bedell, school board attorneys are of the opinion that there may, in fact, be some unconstitutionality in the proposed plan which allows for an equal sharing throughout county-wide districts of tax base revenue. The intent of the plan is to equalize the dollar amount spent on education per pupil and therefore provide a more equal education.

While we are in favor of the motives and the purpose of the plan, we cannot help but commiserate with Bedell. In Romulus, where funding was extremely minimal for so many years, new development has poured tax money into the schools. Students there are now equipped with computer technology more advanced than any district in the area. The funding is being wisely and prudently spent to provide educational tools unknown in many areas.

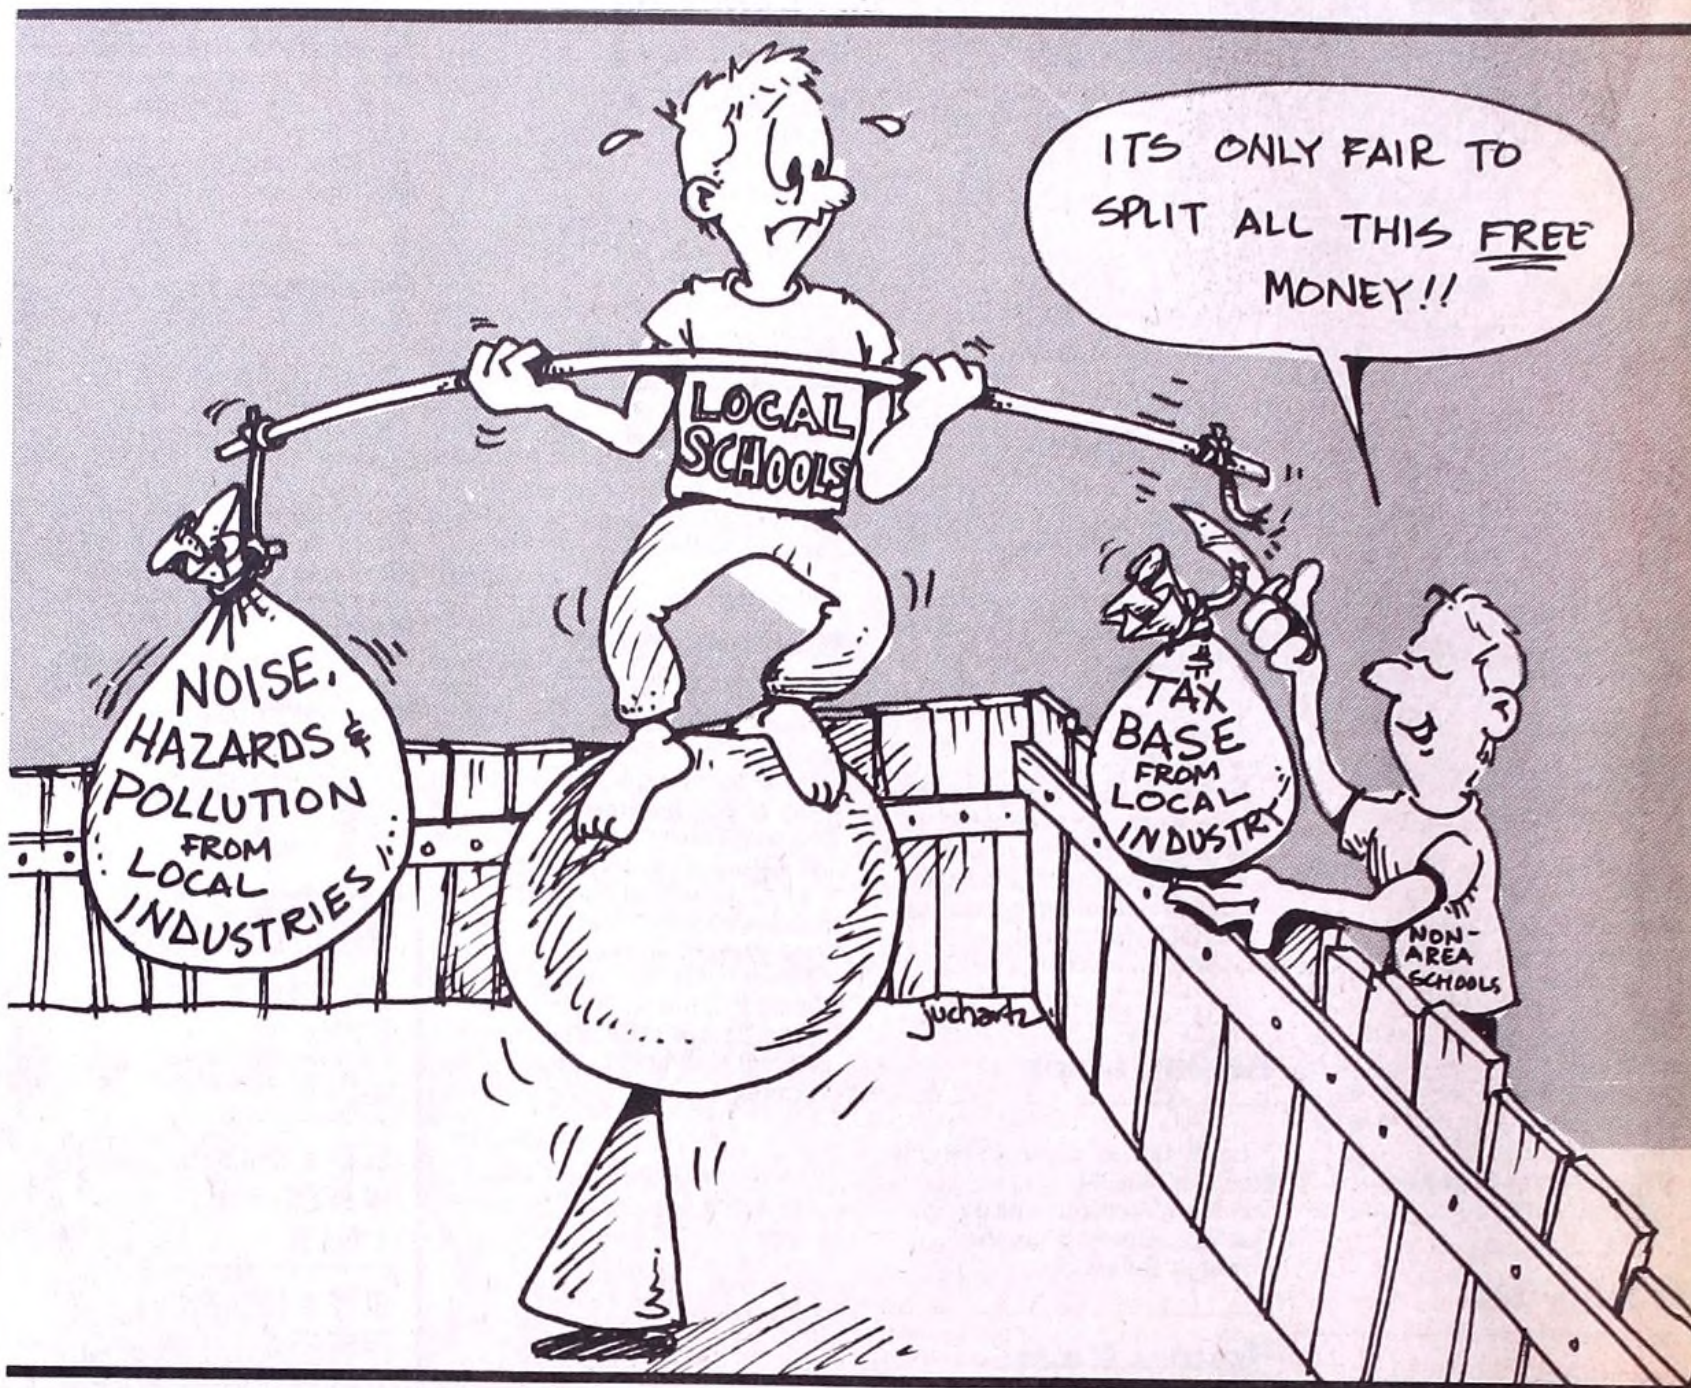

The loss or decrease of this tax base to Romulus would be devastating to the district and to the students. While the outcome of this new legislation is uncertain, we cannot help but feel that the good which may be done for many could cause serious harm to a few we know and care about.

Like Bedell and other educators, we can only await the outcome of the proposal and hope that the greater good for all will be served.

We are reminded, however, that Romulus residents are the one who have been subjected to the extreme and constant effects of construction and development in their area. We are well aware of the price residents have paid in the quality of life while the airport and other development usurps land and disrupts their community.

To be able to find some small gratification and take some pride in the improvement this havoc has brought to the local schools seems only appropriate.

We fully understand and appreciate the attempts to fight a plan which would share this revenue.

Brady Bill blasted

To the editor:

The letter by James Brady in The Belleville Enterprise of Sept. 26 was so full of inaccurate statements as to be mind boggling.

Hinckley who shot Brady 10 years ago bought his gun in a legal manner months before he shot Brady. A waiting period could not have prevented the shooting in any way.

The majority of law enforcement officers do not support the Brady Bill.

The states with a waiting period do not show any statistics that lives are being saved as Brady claims the bill will do.

Between 1971 and 1989, handguns saw a decrease in criminal use of 51 percent to 48 percent. Forty million more people in the two decades and only 1,300 more homicides. Anyone stupid enough to pay $2.75 for a phone call to H.C.I. will see their guns confiscated in the near future as we are seeing in New Jersey, Maryland, New York City and California.

If you will notice, the Brady Bill mentions a waiting period for handguns, but Handguns Control, Inc. run by Sarah Brady wants to ban all guns.

This woman parades her crippled husband in front of Congress to get the sympathy vote of our weak-kneed Senators Levin and Riegle.

Confiscation without compensation is taking place right now, not just being contemplated.

The N.R.A. (National Rifle Association) and a few other pro-gun organizations are trying to save the second amendment, but those who sit on their duffs will hear the knock on their doors to pick up all their guns. The Senate Judiciary Committee for the most part is as much fascist as any Hitler following.

Fabulous 50's praised

To the editor:

Certainly the energy the effort and the brains that spawned the fabulous 50s Sept. 21 is now contemplating for next year. And why not? For we learn from our first experiences.

The dog show was splendid which the audience enjoyed with smiles and laughter along with the children dancing and the teen dancing. So many things were a delight.

But leave out the baby show. Counting pennies was not a delight. And, after all, aren't the babies cute? Yes, yes, yes!

Thirteen hours 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. is too long to close Main Street. As it was, the closing could have been from Third Street to Roys Street.

Why is it we do not use more the Fourth Street Mall? Contests could be limited with a decrease in time from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and or noon to 6 p.m. The audience clearly indicated their choices. The crowd thinned out at about 2 p.m.

The Belleville Road bridge will be under construction this spring. Central Business Committee members could invite Wayne County Commissioner Bryan Amann out to Belleville to talk about Main Street parking after the four-lane bridge is completed.

When the reality of the bridge and Belleville road becomes four lanes can we then visualize a continuation of four lanes with no parking on Main Street?

Careful choice of candidates urged

To the editor:

I want to thank all the residents who came out and voted in the primary election on Sept. 10. You are to be commended for the interest you showed in the city. We had an excellent field of new candidates.

We need to make a change for the betterment of the citizens of Wayne. Some of the councilpersons who are up for re-election should be voted out. Here are just a few of the reasons why.

- They have forgotten the grass roots level of the citizens of Wayne.

- They have not set their priorities in the right places.

- They have refused to amend outdated ordinances that affect the small businesses in Wayne. Some ordinances are 50 years old. Some ordinances are so passe they don't even apply to our community.

I'm not suggesting the council members are bad people, they just haven't made wise decisions. We want a council that is not controlled by one person, a council that keeps in touch with the grass roots of the community.

The present city council has turned its back on the people of this city. They have allowed city employees to be treated like third-class citizens. Employees should be treated the way you want to be treated. Also if there is an opportunity for advancement those on the city payroll should be considered before recruiting outside of the city.

Another thing we don't want is a city council hanging out at the local taverns before and after council meetings. I hope the citizens of Wayne don't want this either.

I have lived in Wayne for more than 30 years and now is the time to make the changes needed in this city. Again, show your concern by voting for a change on Nov. 5.

Cliff Johnson
Wayne

Candidate criticized

To the editor:

It has recently come to my attention the mayor is considering supporting Tom Artley for Westland City Council. This information has caused me a great deal of distress. I would like to remind you that I considered Mr. Artley a good friend. I have been supportive of him personally and politically in the past, but things have changed.

When Tom had his divorce I was there for him. When he had problems with his children he asked if I would speak to them. I have hired his children to work for me in my business. Last week one of Tom's sons called me about using my home in Florida, just as his dad had done in the past.

When Tom was undecided about running for re-election a few years ago I initiated a petition drive to place his name on the ballot. Let's not forget that when he was first appointed to the city council I mustered up the votes to fill my vacant seat.

In every campaign he was the prima donna because he usually had problems with everyone he ran with on a team, when in fact they helped carry him to victory.

Why am I telling you this? I have seen this man become rude, crude, abusive, inconsiderate and disrespectful to people such as Tom Brown, Trav Griffin, Ken Mehl, Ben DeHart, Bill Ziembra, Chuck Pickering, Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek, also the mayor and myself. This list of names would go on to include city employees, school officials, and the business community. I am aware that most of the mayor's own administrative staff have received the same type of improper treatment.

Knowing Mr. Artley reacts to people in non-election years whom he dislikes, I am taking a personal chance in urging you to sit down with the mayor and express your views on the way you have been treated by Mr. Artley, and to encourage the mayor not to be fooled by the two faces that Tom uses at election time. I feel the question you should ask yourself is: Will Tom Artley be good for our community? There are several good candidates the mayor could endorse, and the mayor, council administrators, employees, citizens and the business community could work with. Please take a step forward and talk with the mayor. I feel he is a fair, open-minded man who will listen to your recommendations.

Robichaud is victory-away from clinching title

Bulldogs blast Highland Park, 41-0

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Crushing Highland Park 41-0 Friday afternoon, defending Class B state champ, Robichaud, moved to within one victory of wrapping up the 1991 Suburban Athletic Conference football championship.

If Robichaud can get past Willow Run (3-2) on Friday, the champs will have clinched at least a share of the SAC title.

Robichaud coach Bob Yauck views the pending duel with the Flyers as "one that will test our offensive line."

"Willow Run is loaded with speed and size," Yauck said.

"We are going to have to control the line if we're going to stop them. Believe me, they are capable of beating anyone in this league. They are the surprise team in the league this year."

Willow Run will host the 7:30 p.m. game.

Robichaud played a near-perfect game against the Parkers, a team that was a pre-season pick to swipe the title away from the champs. Quarterback Tom Massey tore the defense apart with his pinpoint passes, connecting on seven of 12 for 127 yards and one touchdown.

In the meantime, the Bulldogs' defense gave up a total of 34 yards. They held Highland Park ball carriers to a minus 18 yards.

"This probably was our best overall game of the season," Yauck said.

Robichaud quarterback Tom Massey got things going in the final minutes of the opening quarter when he hooked up with flanker Steven Gill on a 51-yard touchdown pass. Then, Gary Phillipps kicked his first of five point-afterers.

Before the half ended, Robichaud tilted the scoreboard two more times as Massey scored from five yards out with 5:16 left in the first-half. Massey's TD culminated a 39-yard drive.

Robichaud made it 21-0 with a minute to go when Michael Orsette scored on a one-yard plunge. A bad snap from center, recovered on the Parker 15, set up the touchdown.

The state champs increased their advantage to 28-0 late in the third quarter when Gary Phillipps capped a midfield drive with his one-yard, off-tackle, sprint into the end zone.

In the fourth quarter, Eddie Lawrence scored on a 15-yarder, set up by Kevin Bradley's 15-yard off-tackle jaunt. Then, before the final whistle, Bradley got into the scoring act with a one-yard, end-around run. That came with 1:08 left in the game.

Orsette provided the Bulldogs with 107 of their 227 yards rushing. He had 22 opportunities, while fullback Gary Phillipps finished the afternoon with 52 yards on 10 tries. Gill, who had two interceptions to his credit, also nabbed two of Massey's passes. Derrick Rendles caught three passes for 39 yards.

"We had a good practice last week. Then, there was an added incentive—the kids really wanted to win this one. If you recall, Highland Park was the only team to beat us a year ago," Yauck said.

Tigers sing 2nd half blues

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

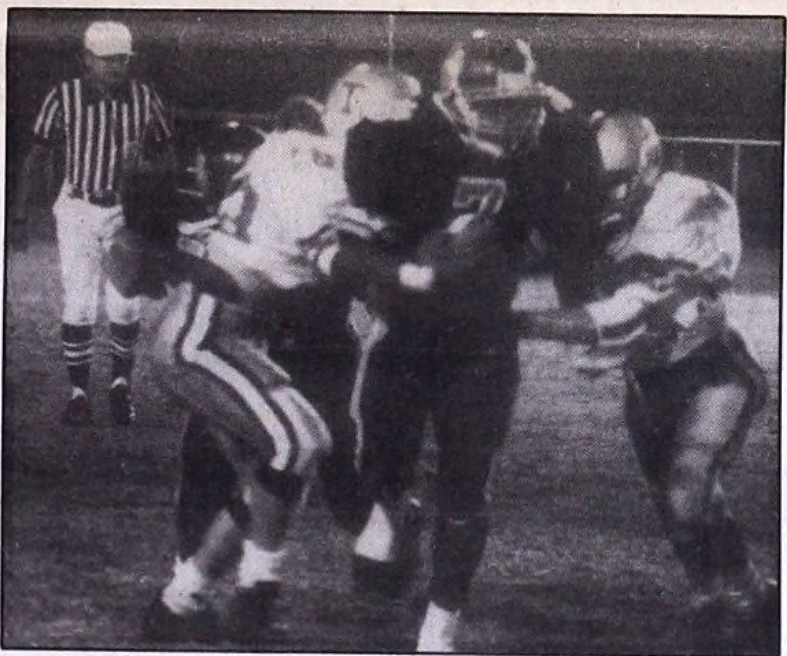

Belleville continued to be a "first-half team" Friday night as the Tigers surrendered a 7-6 lead, gave up 19 second-half points to Southgate Anderson, and dropped a 25-14 decision to their Wolverine 'A' Conference rivals before a Belleville homecoming crowd.

"I don't know what the problem is," said Belleville coach Sam Villa. "We just can't maintain the momentum. It seems that this year's team is a first-half team."

The loss left the Tigers with a 1-5 record. They're still looking for their first conference win of the 1991 campaign. And Villa said he doesn't expect the going to be any easier this week.

On Friday, Belleville travels to Monroe. And the report on the 1991 Trojans is that "they are an aggressive and defense-oriented team," Villa noted.

"If we play the way we did in the second-half against Southgate, Monroe will blow

Belleville looked like it would blow Southgate away Friday night. The Tigers capitalized on an Anderson mishandled punt that wound up in Mike Rochon's hands at the enemy 3-yard line. Two plays later, running back Darryl Montie leaped over from the one and the Tigers were on the scoreboard with six. When Curtis Lundford booted the extra point, Belleville had a 7-6 lead.

But Southgate came back and closed the gap in the waning minutes of the first half, then exploded for 19 decisive points in the second half to tame the Tigers. However, before the final whistle, quarterback Mike Komaromi and Brian Speller combined on a 26-yard TD strike. Lundford booted the extra point through the uprights.

Belleville's bright spot on offense came via Lee Bradford's efforts. He rushed for 125 yards on 16 carries. Defensively, "big" Al Barnett, a 6-7, 270-pound tackle, did more than his share in stopping the visitors.

"Al is a Big 10 calibre player," said Villa. "They don't attempt to run his side of the line."

Fordson mauls Wayne

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Unheralded Wayne Memorial forced state-ranked Dearborn Fordson to sweat it out before the Zebras gave up a 14-6 decision Friday night on the home turf to the undefeated Wolverine 'A' Conference leader.

Wayne coach Chuck Howton said he felt the turning point in the game came in the third quarter when his team failed to score on a fourth-and-two situation.

"We elected to go with the option," Howton explain, "and our quarterback (Jason Wetmore) was stopped before he got in. In retrospect, I feel that we should have tried a pass."

At the time, Wetmore had engineered a 70-yard drive that took up most of the third quarter. He connected on a couple of passes to Tim Mate and also hit Rich Barns with two other receptions.

Wayne was placed in the hole early when an overly-aggressive Fordson, which could not afford a defeat to the Zebras without costing them a post-season playoff berth. The Tractors scored late in the opening frame on quarterback Hadar Saad's 42-yard sneak.

Fordson, ranked as high as sixth in some state polls, elected to go for two, and Saad again pulled it off, making it 8-0.

The Wayne defense, led by Mate, Bruce Calhoun and linebacker Jason Bodden, held the Tractors scoreless until midway in the third quarter when the Tractors put together a long drive, aided by a couple of penalties. They scored from the one, again with Saad going over the goal line.

Wayne came back in the fourth quarter with a Wetmore-to-Eric Bates 50-yard scoring pass that cut the Fordson lead to 14-6. The Zebras came up short in their bid for the two-point conversion.

The Tractors managed to hold off their hosts the rest of the quarter and salted away their sixth-straight victory of the year.

Wayne also has a tough assignment this Friday when the Zebras clash with an improved Southgate Anderson team. Anderson is coming off of a 25-14 victory over Belleville.

"They would love to beat us," Howton said. "Our scouting report says that they dominated the Belleville game."

Belleville dunks Southgate

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Sweeping all 12 first places, Belleville swimmers breezed past Southgate Anderson, 120-62, in a Wolverine 'A' Conference swim & diving meet.

Coach Frank Vicchy and his Tigers boosted their conference record to 2-2 on the season, and they will meet title-favorite Monroe today at 7 p.m. in Monroe for their next league meet.

"Monroe has an exceptional group of swimmers this year," said Vicchy. "They were picked to win the conference this season."

Belleville had a pair of double-event winners against Southgate, which has failed to win a league meet this season. Kristin Curtis chalked up wins in the 200-yard freestyle (2:17.31) and the 500-yard freestyle (6:17.45), while teammate Lindsay Held chipped in first-places in the 50-yard freestyle (28.46) and the 100-yard breaststroke (1:25.68).

Zebras coast past Tractors

Wayne Memorial swimmers evened up their Wolverine 'A' Conference record at 2-2 last week with an easy 114-65 victory over Dearborn Fordson.

Seniors Tania Dobrowolski and Dana Walls each provided the Zebras with two first-places. Dobrowolski finished first in the 200-yard freestyle (2:21.8) and the 500-yard freestyle (6:37.4), while Walls touched in first for the 100-yard freestyle (1:04.8) and the 100-yard breaststroke (1:15.6).

Wayne also placed first in the 200-yard individual medley with Tiffany Morningstar (2:49.9) and the 100-yard butterfly with Susan Cullen (1:16.3). The Zebras had the best one-meter diver in the meet as Mitsy Manie piled up a total of 188.3 points.

Coach Randy Ferguson put together the best

Tiger diver Angelica Wiese won the one-meter diving competition with a 147.40 total. It was her highest score of the current season.

Belleville also had a winner in Vivian Overholt, who turned in a 2:50.88 for the 200-yard individual medley. Also, Jennifer Snure turned in her best time of the season for the 100-yard butterfly, placing first in 1:16.34. Michelle McGoldrick, who was clocked in 1:10.45 in winning the 100-yard freestyle, and Rachel Jacks, who touched in at 1:19.72 for the 100-yard backstroke, were other Tiger winners.

Belleville had the best 200-yard medley lineup in Jackie Loria, Snure, Curtis and McGoldrick, who finished in 2:17.36, while the 200-yard freestyle relay won in 2:01.83 with Held, Nina Kar, Curtis and Bethany Emerson.

The Tigers wrapped up the sweep with a victory in the 400-yard freestyle relay thanks to Rachel Jacks, Kar, Loria and Emerson, who were clocked in 5:11.03.

lineups for the 200-yard freestyle event thanks to sophomores Shellie Gawne, an exchange student from Australia, Wendy Gabany, Liz Gates and Morningstar who combined for a 2:07.6.

Earlier in the week, Wayne also turned back out-of-league rival, Garden City, 111-54. Wayne diver Bridget Jones had her best outing of the current campaign when she was awarded 199.35 points.

The Zebras' 200-yard freestyle relay team of Gawne, Gates, Jodie Garlough and Morningstar shattered the sophomore record for the event when they covered the distance in 2:06.8. The previous record was a 2:08.5.

Wayne could improve its conference mark to 3-2 on Thursday when the Zebras travel to Southgate Anderson. Anderson, in a rebuilding stage, hasn't won in the league this season.

Belleville High will host the 1991 Wolverine 'A' Conference men and women's cross country championships, which will be staged Saturday morning in Willow Park.

Undefeated and state-ranked Monroe is favored to run away with both titles.

"I'm hoping that we can finish right behind them," said Belleville coach, Sam Vicchy, the coach. "But a lot will depend upon how our third and fourth runners perform. Right now, there is too big a gap between our front-runners and the rest of our team."

Belleville has been surviving thanks to the efforts of Ann Gray, a state-recognized talent, and Carmelita Martell, who has finished among the top 10 in most of the invitational this season. However, after the 1-2 Belleville punch, the rest of the Tiger lineup has not kept pace.

The void was obvious last weekend when Belleville competed in the Gabriel Richard Invitational in Ann Arbor. Gray finished fifth (20:15) and Martell was 11th (20:40), but the next Belleville runner crossed the finish line 54th.

"Yes, I'm disappointed," Vicchy said. "We're quitting instead of fighting back, and that's unfortunate because there is a lot of talent on this team. We got to get tough."

Livonia Stevenson captured the first-place trophy at Gabriel Richard after compiling 59 team points. Pioneer was second (67), followed by Mercy (100), Ann Arbor Huron (149) and Belleville (183). There were 14 teams in the field.

Belleville wrapped up the dual meet phase of the season Tuesday when the Tigers played host to conference rivals Trenton and Lincoln Park.

Monroe is team to beat

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Entrenched in second place after defeating Dearborn Fordson and Southgate Anderson last week, Belleville High runners will have to prove on Saturday that they are worthy of the runner up spot in the Wolverine 'A' Conference.

State-ranked and undefeated Monroe is an odds-on-favorite to retain the conference crown when the eight conference teams assemble at Willow Metro Park.

"We have a good team," explained Belleville veteran coach Dave Medley, "however, we're not up to Monroe at this time. I feel we have a good shot at finishing second."

Monroe is the only team to beat the Tigers in a dual meet this year, and the Trojans are also picked to finish in the top 10 in the state when the Michigan High School Athletic Association hosts its state championships later this month.

Belleville improved its record to 4-1 at the expense of Fordson and Anderson. The Tigers got past the Tractors, 23-33, and overpowered Anderson, 15-50.

Fordson Hassim Kassem led four Belleville runners to the wire. Kassem rounded the three-kilometer course in 17:29, and he was followed across the finish line by Troy Adams, who was clocked in 17:42.

Adams' teammates Jason Kidwell (17:50), Gary Knowlton (18:02) and Dan Durham (18:13) nailed down the third through fifth spots, respectively. The other Belleville scorer was Tony Maciejewski, who finished ninth in 18:43.

"The kids ran a good race," Medley said. "It should be interesting to see how they perform at the conference championships on Saturday."

Inkster puts on best show for homecoming crowd

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Backed by a spirited homecoming crowd, Inkster put on its best football display of the season against Ecorse Friday afternoon.

The Vikings routed the Red Raiders, 21-6, to post their first Suburban Athletic Conference victory of the 1991 campaign.

Inkster, 2-4 for the year, will take on Oak Park next. The Redskins scalped the Vikings 48-24 a year ago, and Inkster coach Ron Gardner hasn't forgotten the rout.

"Our kids are looking forward to this rematch," Gardner said. "They (Oak Park) beat us pretty bad last year, and I think I can say that our kids are looking forward to this game."

Inkster will host the 4 p.m. SAC conference game on Friday.

In the meantime, the Vikings are enjoying their well-earned homecoming victory over Ecorse. It was the first time since 1986 that the Vikings had won for the homecoming crowd.

"We played inspired football," the Inkster coach noted. The defense got the Vikings on the scoreboard early against the Red Raiders. Three minutes into the game, cornerback Willie Rogers picked off an errant Ecorse aerial and ran it back 58-yards for a touchdown.

The Inkster bid for a two-point conversion failed.

Then, in the second quarter, the Vikings added to their lead when quarterback Chris Lundy engineered a 64-yard drive that was culminated by sophomore runningback Lawrence Beard's 33-yard touchdown run.

Before the final whistle was sounded, Beard rushed for 113 yards on 11 attempts.

The Vikings wrapped up their scoring midway in the fourth quarter. Tailback Terry Carter got the Vikings on the scoreboard with a three-yard TD jaunt. That also capped a midfield drive.

Rockets split with Central

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

With Jeff Tapper and Mark Coleman providing the 1-2 punch, Westland John Glenn runners knocked out Walled Lake Central, 26-31, in a Western Lakes Conference men's cross country meet last week.

However, the Rocket women runners failed to come up with the necessary five runners against their opponents and were forced to hand over a forfeit to their conference rivals.

Tapper, who has set a fast pace for the Westlanders, toured the three-kilometer course in a respectable 16:46. He led teammate Coleman to the wire. Coleman hit the wire in 17:57.

Glenn also had the fifth and sixth-best runners in the field with Jason Yanity (18:29) and Bob Lulek (18:39). The Rockets also counted Ryan Zantow's 12th-place finish. He ran a 19:21.

The victory evened up the Rockets' conference record at 2-2. They are 5-2 on the year.

On Wednesday, Glenn will compete for conference honors at Cass Benton Park, site of the 1991 Western Lakes championships. The Rockets hope to finish second.

"Salem is undefeated this year and they appear to have the momentum to carry them to the title," said Glen coach Jess Shough. "We're running for second, but it's going to be real close."

Glenn returns to the field today when the Rockets will host Farmington at Central City Park.

Westlander cards an ace

Westland golfer Robert Walters scored a hole-in-one at Pine View Golf Course in Three Rivers.

Walter scored the ace on the 152-yard, number two hole and the ace was validated by golf pro Greg Matthew.

Walters' rare feat also qualified him for the Drambuie Rusty Hole-in-One Sweepstakes. The sweepstakes winner, to be announced later this year, will be awarded a trip for two to Scotland, a V.I.P. tour of the Drambuie Liqueur Co. and $1,000 in cash.

This year Americans will produce more litter and pollution than ever before.

If you don't do something about it, who will?

Defense carries Glenn to win over Walled Lake

By TERRY LYNCH
ANP Special Writer

There is a saying in sports that "on any given day, any team can beat any other team."

And that is true in the Western Lakes Conference.

Take for example, the duel between Westland John Glenn and Walled Lake Central. Central has never beaten the Rockets.

But it took a goal-line stand by Coach Chuck Gordon's minions to keep Central from upsetting the Rockets. Glenn, thanks to some heroics provided by the defense, managed to pull out a 10-0 victory.

Glenn boosted its record to 4-2 on the season. They are 2-2 in the conference. The Central Vikings are probably the best 0-6 team in the state. They also are 0-4 in the conference, and gave the Rockets all they could handle.

Glenn marched to the Viking 33-yard line on its first possession of the game, where the drive stalled. Gordon called upon kicker Chris Bandy, who came through with flying colors to give his team a quick 3-0 edge.

But that field goal was all the points the scoreboard would blink the rest of the first half. Both teams however had touchdowns nullified for various infractions.

Glenn had a six-pointer negated when a clipping penalty erased a tremendous 60-yard punt return by Tad Quattlander.

Minutes later, the Vikings felt the same sting when their TD was nullified for an apparent holding penalty.

In the second quarter, both teams moved the ball, but couldn't come up with the big play.

The Rockets went into their locker room with a slim and shaky 3-0 lead at halftime.

Central came back with vengeance written on their faces. They grabbed the initiative away and, midway through the third quarter, they drove deep into Glenn territory.

With a first and goal at the Glenn 8-yard line, the Vikings were definitely in reach of the lead. But the Rockets dispelled their rivals and denied them entrance into the end zone.

Walled Lake elected to go for the field goal and the tie, but the pumped up Glenn defense blocked the kick and preserved the lead.

Buoyed by the defense, Glenn responded by driving the length of the field as Quattlander capped the march with a 1-yard TD run.

Bandy then added the extra point.

With just over seven minutes to go, the Rockets led with what would stand up as the final score (10-0).

Quattlander finished the game with 101 yards in 19 attempts.

Glenn and Coach Gordon are back in action Friday at home against Farmington. That's another division game.

Although the Westlanders are eliminated from the Western Lakes championship hunt, they still have an outside shot at qualifying for the state playoffs. However, they must beat Farmington in order to stay alive for the berth.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Area bowlers nab top spots

Donn Wolfe of Westland and Gary Krause of Canton Township finished one-two in the September Open of Mid-States Masters Bowling Association staged at the Satellite Bowl in Dearborn Heights.

Wolfe, who was sponsored in the event by Krause, won the title by defeating his friend 186-181 in a game that was close all the way. Both men bowled five games of qualifying and four games of match-play before meeting each other in the championship round.

Wolfe, who is employed by Coca-Cola, took home $700 in winning his first Mid-States title, while Krause pocketed $350 for his runner-up efforts.

Scott Williams of Flat Rock led the field of 73 in qualifying and received a check of $50 for the accomplishment.

Just Desserts

By Susan Willett

They called it a road rally. Actually, it was a serious lesson in humility taught without mercy or compassion.

They said it would be a good time. It was a real good time for those who knew things like when the time capsule at Garden City City Hall would be opened and what the flag of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines looks like.

Reluctance doesn't quite describe my approach to the Garden City Chamber of Commerce sponsored road rally. Think about being dunked head first into a tank of Drano and it might be comparable to my feelings.

Coersion, threats and blackmail finally won out. There I was Saturday night, along with a great many other people all anticipating a great time. Now, I admit, I was warned. The rules did advise participants to bring along a dictionary (why would I need that?), a Thesaurus (please, who do you think you're dealing with?) and other assorted reference materials. My ego being what it is, I brought nothing and paid dearly for it.

Did they tell me to bring a tape measure or yardstick to measure an awning 12 feet in the air? Where did it say bring a ladder? Did anyone mention that the competition was going to be so intense that overzealous teams would not hesitate to push an unsuspecting participant out of the way, knock her down and not even flinch as the lens flew from her glasses? No, nobody mentioned that part.

And did anyone say you had to be an expert on area history and trivia? No. And the most important thing nobody mentioned was that it was necessary to be a competent driver. I never stood a chance, particularly after I was reduced to being sighted in only one eye.

OK. So my team came in a bit late and perhaps we did only get 130 of the 200 points. Perhaps we didn't find all the clues, but we showed up in time for dinner, didn't we? All right, I admit, perhaps had we been a bit more competitive and not gotten distracted by our own silliness, we might have done a bit better. But then again, we may have had a better time than those geniuses who found every clue and waltzed in ahead of the rest of us loonies.

Next year, we'll follow directions. I only hope we have as much fun.

Toffee-topped squares

1/4 cup butter
6 tablespoons sugar, divided
1 cup self-rising flour
1/4 cup butter
1 14-ounce can sweetened condensed milk
1/4 cup pecans or walnuts, chopped
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
4 ounces sweet chocolate, melted
1 tablespoon water

Cream 1/4 cup butter with 4 tablespoons sugar. Blend in flour. Spread evenly in a greased 8-inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Mix together 1/4 cup butter, 2 tablespoons sugar, sweetened condensed milk and pecans or walnuts. Add vanilla. Pour over shortbread and cool. Melt chocolate with the tablespoon water and spread over the toffee. Cool and cut into small squares.

Updated old-fashioned treats

Many of the warmest memories of our growing-up years involve foods we used to love, but have little inclination to make these days because of lack of time or concern about calories and fat - or both.

For example, when mom - or perhaps grandma - made a chicken pot pie, she simmered a large chicken, waited for it to cool, took the meat off the bones, prepared and cooked the carrots, peas, onions and potatoes, seasoned and thickened the rich gravy, made the biscuits or crust for the topping, and then baked it in the oven. Time consuming? Yes. Delicious? Definitely. Light eating? Not exactly.

These days we look for ways to achieve a remembered or desired result in far less time at a cost of many fewer calories or grams of fat. And it's possible because of the high quality refrigerated dough items and other frozen and pre-cooked products in our supermarkets today. An example is the new Pillsbury Hearty Grains line of lowfat refrigerated biscuits and soft bread twists with whole grain texture and flavor.

Consider this recipe for a great tasting shortcut Skillet Chicken 'n Biscuit Pie. The chicken is bought fresh, fully cooked, needing only to be cut into cubes. Instead of the usual peas and carrots, interesting colorful frozen vegetables - broccoli, cauliflower, and carrots - are added right from the package. The flavorful sauce is made with low-sodium chicken broth and lowfat sour cream seasoned with pepper.

The last step is to finish the dish with Pillsbury Hearty Grains Refrigerated Multi-Grain Biscuits with their crunchy whole grain topping and only two grams of fat per serving. Then bake the pie for about half an hour. Not only is it an easy and appealing dish, it's an enlightened one, with only 250 calories, 8 grams of fat per serving, and just minutes to prepare.

Another every day classic frequently on the menu for those growing up in the '50s might have been creamed salmon and peas served on toast or over mashed potatoes. A 90's style version of this simple favorite turns it into a delicious, but still easy, baked tart.

A mixture of salmon and frozen sweet peas are well flavored with lowfat sour cream and dill, and spooned into a rectangular crust fashioned out of strips of Hearty Grains trademark Country Oatmeal Twists. Additional dough strips, which come perforated for easy handling, are placed diagonally across the top, and the tart is baked for 18 to 25 minutes. There's enough sauce and filling to complement the whole grain flavor and texture of the crust, but the tart has only 230 calories and 7 grams of fat per serving. Accompany it with a salad for a superb meal.

Both the pie and the tart provide a good measure of complex carbohydrates which contribute vitamins, minerals and fiber. Serve these to your family, and give your children fond food memories of their own.

Other easy yet impressive main dish recipes such as Baked Spinach and Cheese Lattice, Crab and Asparagus Filled Biscuits, and Hearty Pizza, along with an interesting array of breads and desserts, are available from Pillsbury in a new eight-page illustrated Hearty Grains recipe booklet. For a free copy, call 1-800-477-1111 before December 31, or write to P.O. box 4849, Monticello, MN 55565-4849.

Stealth is 'Star of the Year'

Dodge Stealth, launched in 1991 as the image and performance leader for Dodge, has quickly backed up its promises with solid sales performance.

Called the "Star of the 1991 Model Year" by Car and Driver magazine, the Dodge Stealth 22 sports coupe is an extraordinary example of advanced engineering, inside and out. Four models are available—Base, Stealth ES, Stealth R/T and Stealth R/T Turbo—each with distinctive styling cues, to satisfy the individual tastes and budgets of a wide range of buyers.

The ultimate model, Dodge Stealth R/T Turbo, has a standard 300 horsepower, 3.0-liter DOHC 24-valve MPI twin air-to-air intercooled turbo V-6 engine with five-speed manual overdrive transaxle, all-wheel drive with center differential and viscous coupling, four-wheel hydraulic-assisted steering that activates at speeds over 30 mph, 4-wheel anti-lock brakes, driver-side air bag and 3-point belts for all occupants.

The other three models—Base Stealth, Stealth ES and Stealth R/T—are offered with graduating mechanical and convenience sophistication and optional equipment availability.

The Base Stealth and step-up Stealth ES, for example, sport the same muscular exterior body contours, interior look and feel as the Stealth R/T and R/T Turbo—but with their own distinctive styling cues—and offer a majority of the same standard features, including driver-side air bag and 3-point belts for all occupants, four-wheel high-performance power-assisted disc brakes that are vented front and rear, and power-assisted rack and pinion steering.

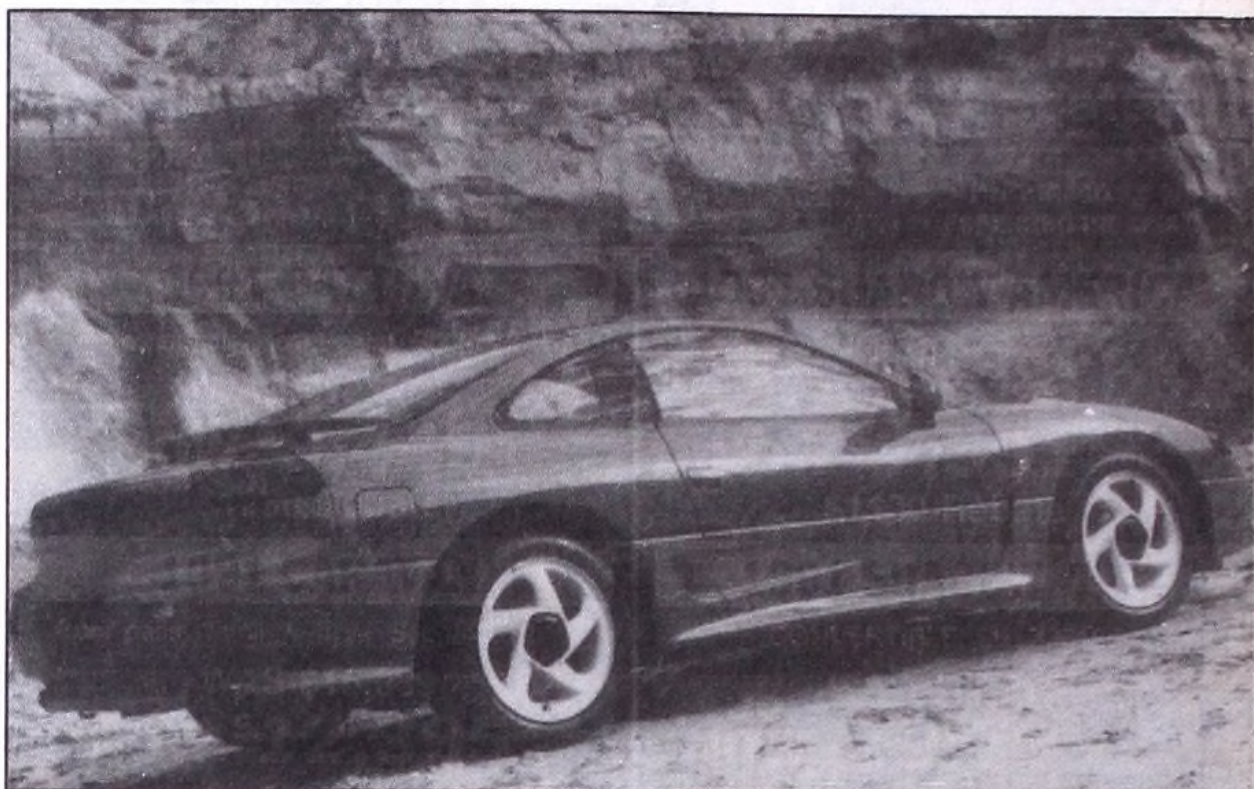

The Base Stealth is powered by a naturally-aspirated 3.0-liter V-6 engine capable of a peak 164 horsepower at 5,500 rpm and 185 pound feet of torque at 4,000 rpm, providing a performance potential that equals or exceeds any sports car in its price range.

Stealth ES and Stealth R/T are each equipped with a naturally-aspirated 3.0-liter 24 valve DOHC V-6 engine that will deliver 222 horsepower at 6,000 rpm and 201 pound feet of torque at 4,500 rpm, and is coupled with a five-speed manual overdrive transaxle. A 4-speed automatic transaxle is optional on Base Stealth, Stealth, Stealth ES and Stealth R/T.

Other optional equipment on selected Stealth models includes AM/FM stereo radio with cassette (or compact disc) with four speakers, security alarm, leather seats, and tailgate wiper/washer.

Enhancing the already successful Stealth, select 1992 models will feature automatic temperature control readability improvements (color and intensity), a new exterior color—Emerald Green—and a sunroof available mid-year.

Ford looks to Thunderbird

Local Ford dealers are looking at the new Thunderbird with an eye to the special type buyer for whom it will offer an irresistible appeal, according to company spokesmen.

The Thunderbird has evolved from a two-seater sports car to an elegant full-size family automobile, but this year, some of the original sports features have been incorporated to attract those looking for a sportier vehicle.

The new 1992 Thunderbird will feature an aerodynamic front-end similar to the Super Coupe model. Also new for '92 are color-keyed bodyside moldings on the standard, LX and Sport models and full-width tail-lamp illumination. In addition, there are four new exterior colors—Cayman Green, Dark Plum, Opal Grey and Silver Metallic.

The standard 3.8-liter, V-6, sequential electronic fuel-injected engine will continue as the base powerplant for the Thunderbird LX while a 200-horsepower, 5-liter V-8 is standard on the Sport model. A 210-horsepower, 5-liter 3.8-liter supercharged V-6 engine is standard on the Super Coupe.

"Thunderbird's high level of standard equipment and superior ride and handling make this car very appealing to drivers," said Ross H. Roberts, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager. "If there's one notion that's central to all Thunderbirds, it's the idea that this is a driver's car. This special appeal has always been part of Thunderbird—going back to the first two-seaters."

The standard and LX models include a four-speed automatic overdrive transmission, air conditioning, tinted glass, a full-length console with floor-mounted shift, power front-disc brakes, power rack-and-pinion steering (speed sensitive on LX, Sport and Super Coupe), and a four-wheel independent suspension. A vehicle maintenance monitor is offered as an option on all models.

Standard on SuperCoupe are anti-lock brakes, an adjustable suspension, articulated sport seats and a performance analog instrument cluster.

Since its introduction in 1955, Thunderbird has been among the best-selling sports coupes in America, Roberts noted.
